

T Bridge is a management and ICT consultancy company, based in Genoa and with offices in Milan, Rome, Cagliari and Lamezia Terme. It operates according to an ISO 9001: 2008 certified Company Quality System.

Drawing on the experience of METIS, one of the first Italian management consultancy companies, T Bridge develops over time and today offers itself as a technical and methodological support for companies and the Public Administration, making them available, in addition to management consultancy services, the ability to provide solutions.

Our mission is to assist our customers in development strategies, in the reorganization phases and in the innovation of company processes and culture to generate growth and lasting value.

We design and achieve innovative interventions through the integration of management consulting, the synthesis of knowledge, experience and method, exploiting our ICT skills.

We continuously invest in the enhancement and development of methodologies, knowledge and resources that are the key to the success of our customers and our interventions.
